Issue 261 Friday 21st June 2024

Dear parents/carers,

The sun is shining, it is finally starting to feel like summer and our field is drying out nicely – this has meant that PE, playtimes and even some lessons have started to take place on field. All we need now is for the weather to hold out for next Friday when it's our summer fair.

Thank you to everyone who has donated bottles and gifts to be used as prizes today. We are still short of any raffle prizes from local business – please ask friends and family who may own a local business if they can donate a prize or token in the name of their business. It would be very much appreciated.

As always there has been lots going on this week with educational visits including a Viking Day in Northwich, visits to Middlewich High and local walks. We've also had the Music Roadshow visit today, which is always a treat!

Have a great weekend and stay safe in the sun!
Mr Adlington
Principal

Water bottles and sun cream!

With the warmer weather forecast for next week, could we please remind parents to ensure your child has a water bottle in school each day? Could you also apply sun cream before school and send your child to school with a hat (clearly named) to wear during break and lunchtimes?

EYFS News

Has summer finally arrived? Let's hope so! The children are thoroughly enjoying making the most of the outside area and the forest.

We have been working on recognition of teen and twenty something numbers this week. The children have been learning to talk about the numbers in terms of groups of 10 and more i.e. 24 is 2 groups of 10 and 4 more, 15 is 1 group of 10 and 5 more. They have been making teen and twenty something numbers on ten frames.

This song helps them to picture a number.

The children enjoyed making 'nature bracelets' during our forest school session. They are getting prepared for Sports Day during PE sessions at the moment.

I hope they enjoyed learning about the Javan rhino and why it is endangered this week when we read the story 'Ronald the Rhino'. Our story next week is 'Polar Bear, Polar Bear' by Eric Carle.

We hope you enjoy the weekend and look forward to seeing you at the Summer fair on Friday!
